SAD DEATH OF YOUNG, BEAUTIFUL MATRON

Mrs. Bernice Driskill Lamb Succumbs After Illness Of A Year.

Bernice Driskill Lamb, wife of Guy Lamb, the junior member of the firm of Asher & Lamb, the Main street grocers, and younger daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Driskill died at the home of her parents on West Elm street Saturday night, Feb. 20th 1915, at nine o'clock, after a lingering illness with tuberculosis with which she was stricken about a year ago. Last summer her husband and father accompanied her to Denver, Colorado, where she entered the "Agness Memorial Sanitarium" with the hope, of checking the ravages of the disease, and of restoring her to her former health and strength. For a while it seemed as if she was improving and hope was held out to her friends and loved ones here that she soon would return greatly benefited if not entirely and permanently cured, and this result was devoutly hoped for by her many friends here, by whom she was greatly beloved.

Different members of the family visited her during her stay in Denver and were encouraged at her condition until last month when she began to grow weaker, and expressed a desire to return to her home. The family at once arranged to bring her home, she arriving about January 15th, since which time she had gradually succumbed until the end Saturday night, which caused genuine sorrow throughout the city where every one was her friend.

The funeral at the residence was prebbed at 1 o'clock Monday by her pastor, Rev. J. A. Chandler of the Methodist Church to which she was united about two years ago. The presiding elder of this circuit, Rev. Goodson was present and assisted at the funeral and burial which was conducted at the New Cemetery.

The large assemblage at the home and the cemetery attested the popularity of the deceased, as did the numerous and beautiful floral offerings which completely hid the new made mound.

Bernice Driskill was born Jan. 18, 1889, Died February 20, 1915, aged 26 years, 1 month and 1 day. She was married to Guy Lamb June 30th 1913. He survives her, with her parents, one sister, Miss Maude, and two brothers, David B. of Chicago, and Arnold of this city.

FARM FLOCK DISCUSSED BY J. B. CARTER.

Calls Attention To The Winter Egg Problem, And Tells Of The Best All Purpose Fowls.

In this article I want to call attention to a few things I think need our careful attention in solving the winter egg problem on the average farm.

First good stock. Now I don't mean the high priced show birds we see advertised, but I do recommend that you buy full blooded stock or eggs, of which ever kind you may select, then stick to it. Don't buy Rocks, Reds, Orpingtons, Ancons, Leghorns, etc.. If you do you will raise a flock of mongrels, a real "Dukes Mixture" that will be neither egg nor meat fowls. Oh! you may get a few eggs from the mixture but nothing like the results you would get from good stock selected from the same strain. The matter of selecting the kind you want is one that should be carefully studied and decided by yourself. If you want an all purpose fowl select one of the larger breeds: Wyandottes, Orpingtons, Rocks or R. I. Reds, the latter has been with us the best all purpose fowls we have ever tried being a fine winter layer, good size and make fine mothers, can be moved and made to set almost anywhere. If eggs are mainly what you want select one of the smaller breeds Leghorns, Hamburgs, Handans any of the non sitting family, they cost less to keep and I think will lay more eggs during the year than either of the larger breeds. But as I have already said you must decide that question for yourself. However I would advise that you get the kind that you like best for I am sure that you will succeed best with that kind. When it becomes necessary to put new blood into your flock (every two years is all right for the farm flock), buy eggs or stock of the same kind you already have. Save the best early hatched pullets for winter layers. Sell the old hens, they will eat but absolutely refuse to lay. This plan followed for a few years you will have a flock of grade hens that will be both a pleasure and a profit to the owner.

The housing we consider a very essential part in considering this subject. Our experience is that no variety, no matter how well bred will give satisfactory returns unless warm day quarters free from drafts, cold winds and

JUDGE C. S. NUNN ASKS RATIFICATION OF APPOINTMENT

As Successor To His Father Upon Bench of the Court of Appeals.

JUDGE C. S. NUNN.

Judge C. S. Nunn, of Marion, Crittenden County, Kentucky, is a candidate at the coming August Democratic primary for election as Judge of the Court of Appeals from the First Appellate District. The district includes Muhlenberg, Hopkins, Webster, Union, Christian and every county in Kentucky west to the Mississippi River.

The election is for the unexpired term of his father, Judge T. J. Nunn, who resigned from the bench last March on account of ill health. Judge T. J. Nunn gave up nearly five years of his elective term, and Judge C. S. Nunn is serving a part of that term by appointment of the Governor, the appointment having been made upon the recommendation of all of the judges of that court. Under the law, the appointment is effective until the November election. This election is for the remainder of Judge T. J. Nunn's term—three years. Judge C. S. Nunn hopes the people will ratify the Governor's appointment, and submits his service upon the bench for the people to decide whether it is worthy of endorsement. His duties upon the bench will require his presence in Frankfort until about July 1st, so that he will have very little opportunity to make a personal canvass of his district.

Col. Roberts Has A Night Horse.

On the eighteenth day of July 1915 a squadron of German Dreadnoughts accompanied by submarines and a flock of Zeppelins circling over, all appeared in the lower bay off New York City.

War between the United States and Germany was on.

The squadron steamed in regular formation until very near the sealine of Liberty opposite the Battery.

No undue excitement was noticed in the city nor was any great curiosity manifested.

The strong fortifications in the lower harbor were silent as the fleet passed.

When the great number of ships had formed in regular shelling array opposite the city something happened—from underneath every one of these German war vessels the water receded and the ships disappeared. A dinner was given Thos. A. Edison that evening at the Waldorf-Astoria in which he said that it was easier to remove water than earth.

INDIANA GIRL AND KENTUCKIAN WED.

Marriage Of Miss Anna Louise Korfhage And James Robert Bird Is Event At New Albany.

The first Presbyterian church at New Albany was the scene of a brilliant wedding last evening, when Miss Anna Louise Korfhage became the bride of James Robert Bird of Marion, Kentucky. The full Presbyterian ritual was employed by the Rev. Edgar C. Lucas, the pastor.

White azaleas were combined with ferns, palms and festoons of Southern smilax in the decorations and white vases containing white roses were at each side of the altar. White satin streamers marked the portion of the auditorium reserved for the family and terminated in feathery green with white roses. The bride wore a gown of ivory crepe, the waist having rose point lace for trimming and court train. Her tulle veil was confined with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Lisette Amelia Korfhage, her only sister, was the maid of honor and wore pink charmeuse carrying Killarney roses arranged as a shower. Mr. John C. Bean, of Cincinnati, acted as best man and the ushers were: Dr. Horace Bird of Lexington, Ky., brother of the bridegroom; Mr. Stuart Bird, of Shelbyville, Ky., Dr. R. W. Keene and Mr. Walter Terstegge, of Louisville; Messrs George A. Schuler and Lee Sapinsky, of New Albany.

As the guests were gathering a musical program was given which included a contralto solo, "Birthday Song" (Huntington Woodman), by Mrs. Robert K. Van Pelt, aunt of the bride; a soprano number, "Depurs le Jour" aria from "Louise" (Charpentier); a duet, "I Would That My Love Would Silently Flow" (Mendelssohn); "Meditation" from Massenet's "Thais" by Mrs. William A. Hedden, the organist, who used the wedding music from Lohengrin as the party entered, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the members were leaving the church. Mr. and Mrs. Bird left late in the evening on a wedding trip and after April 15 they will be at home in Marion, Ky.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bird, of Shelby county, Kentucky, parents of the bridegroom; Miss Margaret Bird of Albemarle, S. C., and Mr. Robert S. Greene, of Falls-of-the-Rough, Ky.—New Albany Letter to the Louisville Herald.

He noticed we were dragging down our roads to make them better. Nothing will make good roads but labor. Farmers, look after the roads along your farms. Just use the drag a little and it will make the roads better, and not only that, but make your farms worth more. We all like good roads, so let's have them.

PURITY

Purity consist in an understanding of, and obedience to the laws of God. We are of the earth, earthy, and to earth we will return. Just as the water that floats o'er us, came from the sea, so shall it return to the place from whence it came.

Man was placed upon earth in a state of absolute purity for no other purpose than to dress, keep and preserve it to the honor and glory of the Messiah. No age in history is more sacred and memorable than the age of Edenic blissfulness, pure as it was, impurities of immateriality crept, as a thief in the night in to that home of homes, and seized the "holy family" as it were as a representative of the succeeding days and ages.

From that day to this, families, homes and societies have been destroyed, because of the sin, impurities and vice that have been the unheeded guests of the immortal inmates. Hasten the day when the homes will awake from their long sleep, and call their spirits from the ungodly kingdoms, to be swallowed up by the magic power of the omnipresent Being.

The home is the cradle of godliness: The old maxim, "as the twig is bent, the tree is inclined" is true among men. The home is the "hub of the universe," to the child, and should be as clean, pure and godly as a dew drop from Heaven. Train a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it. The first impressions are best because they live the longest and seem most vivid, upon this as a basis we might deduce the following: that the first twelve years of a child's life is the formative age, in which he has well fastened his habits, thoughts, and daily practices, hence he should be nourished in the presence of purity, cleanliness and every other holy environment that would prepare him for true manhood.

No young man should think of plunging into adolescence until he has made special preparation by having used his earlier life as a character moulding and fitting of self for the more strenuous and responsible labour which he is sure to encounter.

For a man to be well developed mentally is no evidence that he is fully prepared to make his adolescence strike for personal progress. He may, like the brush in the stream float for many days, but according to science and natural law must of necessity sink to perdition and shame unless the lifelines can be thrown out to his rescue and bring him in ere night fall comes.

Total abstinence from sin and vice is the only way to develop into a state of supreme happiness. Home life should, by the proper examples of parental teaching be made an ideal beginning for an ideal ending of a successful career. Pure homes are but the beginning links of that great golden chain that enables us to be drawn from Canaan's Wilderness to future revelation. The second links are those that are constantly held in place by our neighbors and associates who let their lights shine before men that we may more easily follow in the wake of the Great Teacher.

Every individual is a stepping stone to some point of superiority. In other words we are seed sowers, throwing seed into good or bad ground to be transformed into a stalk of corn or an oak for the healing of the nations. Neighbors should be inspired to lend their best efforts and a full consecration of self for the cause of human's tomorrow.

Tomorrow is the day when our neighbors, pastors, churches, schools and societies will arise from their dormant state and unite as one, hand in hand, shoulder to shoulder, and move on in the upward march of christian science and true brotherhood. A life spent for ill omens, infamous attitudes and imperfections is a life that can be said to have merely existed, of having lived; but a life that has been given to others that they might live, is a glory to him who spent it, and to Him who gave it. - Written by request of teacher By Miss M. Stone.

French Remedy Aids
Stomach Sufferers

France has been called the nation without stomach troubles. The French have for generations used a simple mixture of vegetable oils that relieve stomach and intestinal ailments and keep the bowels free from foul, poisonous matter. The stomach is left to perform its functions normally. Indigestion and gastritis vanish.

Mr. Geo. H. Mayr, a leading druggist of Chicago, cured himself with this remedy in a short time. The demand is so great that he imports these oils from France and compounds them under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. People everywhere write and testify to the marvelous relief they have received using this remedy—one dose will rid the body of poisonous accretions that have accumulated for years and convince the most chronic sufferer from stomach, liver or intestinal troubles. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

United States Warns
England And Germany.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The United States has warned Great Britain and Germany, respectively, that a general use of the American flag by British vessels be viewed with grave concern here and that the destruction by Germany of any American vessel in the newly prescribed war zone would lead to serious complications.

It became known today that the text of the two notes sent last night expressed much more emphatically than had been generally known the displeasure of the United States at the use of neutral flags by British merchantmen, as well as its solicitude over the implication that neutral vessels are liable to destruction by German submarines in British waters.

Germany was informed that the destruction of an American vessel might lead to a change in the hitherto friendly relations between the two countries.

Beware of Ointments for Catarth that Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. The Farm Flock.

snow are prepared. Your house need not be an expensive one, on almost every farm there are old disused cabins or tumbled down sheds with lumber enough going to waste if torn down and sawed into proper lengths to build suitable quarters for all the poultry desired to be raised on the place. Build your houses any size you want; 5ft. back, 7ft. front, high side to the south; double box north side and both the east and west sides, 4 ft on each end, the rest may be stripped, leave plenty of openings on south side, place door in east end if convenient make dropping board on platform on north side two and one half feet from floor, full length of house, put roost poles 14 inches above this platform all on a level, spaced 14 inches apart. This dropping board is very essential as it keeps the house clean. The entire floor space can be used as in a scratching shed. Cover windows with one inch mesh poultry netting nailed on inside, use burlap for curtains. A light door frame covered with poultry netting hung to open on inside, with plenty of litter on floor, so birds can be kept inside on cold or snowy weather.

There are other things I would like to tell you but I fear that I have already overtaxed the patience of our kind, big hearted Marshall.

The improvement of the farm flock goes hand in hand with the crop improvement movement in Crittenden county. If this escapes the dreaded waste basket I may add something more later.

An Appreciation.

We take this method of replying to our many friends, who remembered us in our recent, great bereavement, with sweet letters of christinn solicitude, and condolence. Dear friends, we appreciate your kind letters, and sympathy beyond expression but oh! it was not given to us to utter the words of sympathy to heal the crushed, or broken heart. While our home is lonely oh! so lonely, because Mae has left us, and our hearts are burdened, and very sad because she has gone to not return, but we mourn not as those left without hope. We know our beloved children Willie and Mae are now basking in the resplendent illumination of the Holy Trinities in eternal glory. Oh thank God for consolation, such as ours.

Just a few hours before she left us, Mae called the two youngest of the family Mary and Bryan to her bedside, and told them she would not be with them but a short time. She said Bryan I want to know if you intend to meet me in Heaven. She talked to her baby brother Jimmie, the advice of wisdom, and she was very calm, talking as if she were only going for a few days, and would then return. She requested us not to grieve for her, that the end of life would be a great relief to her, and she thought it ought to be the same with us.

She suffered so much and bore her sufferings so patiently, and with such christian fortitude, Mae cannot, and would not if she could, return to us, to suffer the uncertain ills of this life, but it is our blessed privilege to go to her, and we thank thee, Father, for thy incomprehensible goodness to us.

We beg that God's richest blessing be with, and rest upon our multitude of friends, is the prayer of J. C. Hardin, wife and children.

Home Dynamited.

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 22.—An attempt was made to blow up and kill John Childress, a colored barber, Friday night about 11:30 o'clock by alleged "poison hunters." Childress and his wife were asleep in a two-room cabin owned by W. P. Henry, a retired merchant and one of the most prominent citizens of this city, when a heavy charge of dynamite was placed under the corner of their home, which is situated within two blocks of the court square.

The heavy sill resting on a stone foundation, was blown into splinters, as though struck by lightning, and the foundation itself was demolished, several heavy stones being crumbled and hurled across the street. The floor under the bed, which sat in a corner just over the place where the dynamite was exploded, was demolished, as was also the bed in which Childress and his wife were sleeping. It was a miracle that both the occupants of the bed were not killed. The theory is advanced that the bed springs saved the occupants from harm.

CANDIDATE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

G. B. LIKENS

TO THE VOTERS OF KENTUCKY—I am a candidate for Secretary of State, subject to the will of the Democratic party to be expressed in the primary election Aug. 7, 1915. My party loyalty, my availability as a candidate, my conduct as a private citizen and my record as a public official are respectfully submitted for investigation and consideration. For more than three years I have served you as Assistant Auditor, and while the office is not an elective one, the duties are important and exacting. If nominated and elected as your Secretary of State, all the energy and ability which I have shall be earnestly devoted to the business of that department. No duty will be too arduous for me to perform faithfully, and none will be considered too trivial to receive careful and prompt attention. Feeling very grateful for the assurances of support already received and soliciting the votes and influence of all, I am,

Sincerely yours,

LOYD'S BRAIN LEAKS.

By F. S. LOYD:

Uncle Dock Green says if our women and girls would take a higher stand and say "No, we will not keep company with you unless you live the way we want you to," there would be better men in the world. A lot of you young women hold yourselves too cheaply; you are scared to death for fear you will be what the world irreverently calls an old maid.

Uncle Gus Bentley says a boy spends a lot of hopeful years looking forward to the time when he will be his own boss—and then he gets married and gets a boss sure enough.

Hub Butler says the man who behaves himself because he is afraid of the police and the devil, doesn't make the best citizen. The best citizens are the men who behave themselves because it makes them feel good to be able to look the world straight in the eye. Hub knows.

Albert Elder says you can't tell anything about a woman. The one who abuses her husband most in private, brags about him most in public.

One of our town ladies said to another: "Does your husband ever lose his temper?"

"Not any more. He lost it permanently about two years after our marriage."

Dan Boisture says there is nothing strange about the fact that women do not talk in their sleep. They have the whole day to talk in and a man has to talk some times.

Ben Wigginton says you often see a man who needs a hat when he doesn't want it. But darnd if I ever saw a woman that way.

Uncle Dock Green says the two nicest things in the world is a pretty girl, and a man who minds his own business.

Albert Elder says we use to marry in haste and repent at leisure; but now-a-days we marry at leisure and repent in haste.

Sam Harris says some men waste half of their lives sitting around the store and regretting that life is so short.

Newt Dollar says no matter how well you are doing your work, there are always a lot of people loafing around who can tell you how to do it better.

George Crider says most of the men who are seeking positions, are dodging work. George, knows.

Germans Hid Their Ship In Palm Grove To Try To Save Her.

The dramatic story of the sinking of the German raider Koenigsburg, on the coast of East Africa, has just been told by Captain Willett of the British merchant ship Newbridge.

The Koenigsburg, which was a light cruiser of about the same class as the Emden, Dresden, and Karlsruhe, mounting only 4.1 inch guns, was in company with a smaller German ship when chased by the British squadron, which included, it is believed, several armored cruisers of the County class. The smaller ship was sunk, but the Koenigsburg succeeded in getting behind the Mafia Islands and some distance up the river, where she was completely screened by a bend of the river, and where the British heavier draft ships could not follow her. They also, it appears, landed a detachment who mounted some light guns on the bank as a defense against attack by a British boat expedition.

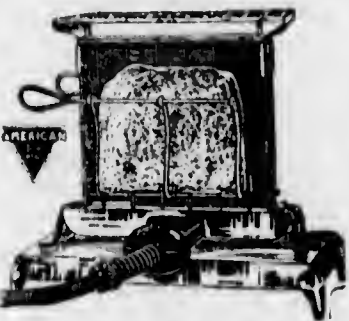

The British, however, contented themselves with bottling up the Koenigsburg by sinking Captain Willett's ship in the channel. They then waited for the arrival of a seaplane which flew up the river and indicated the position of the German cruiser by dropping smoke bombs.

The Germans had their ship close to the bank under cover of some palm groves and had covered her with foliage. The aviator, however was able to make her out and to direct the fire of the British ships so accurately by signals that the cruiser was completely destroyed.

Can you doubt the evidence of this Marion citizen?

You can verify Marion endorsement. Read this:

William Redd, farmer, Marion, says: "I had a severe pain in the small of my back and it ached and felt lame in the morning. I tired very easily and was nervous all the time. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and contained sediment. Hearing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I began using them. I was helped almost at once. I have had no sign of the trouble since, but I keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand for emergency." Price 50 cents at all dealers. CATARRH OF HEAD AND STOMACH

Took Peruna Five Bottles Cured Me

Mr. Frank Richter, No. 309 East Second St., Winona, Minn., writes: "My catarrh was principally located in my head and stomach. I tried many remedies without success. I tried several doctors, but they were unable to cure me. I read of Peruna in the papers, and five bottles cured me. As a remedy for catarrh I take pleasure in recommending Peruna for catarrh of the stomach. I know what it is to be afflicted with this awful disease and consider it my duty to say a word in behalf of the remedy which gave me such relief. Peruna cured me, and I know it will cure any one else who suffers from this disease. It gives me great pleasure to testify to the curative effects of this medicine. Peruna is a well tested and frequently used remedy, and for catarrh of the stomach it is unsurpassed."

As a rule, people when ailing apply very properly to a doctor before resorting to a ready-to-take medicine. The great majority are cured by the doctor. But a per cent. of chronic cases fail to find a cure and at last begin to use ready-to-take medicines. It is very noticeable indeed the number of people among our testifiers who say that it was only after the doctor had failed to cure them that they were induced to take Peruna. Then they find to their relief, to their surprise, to their joy, that Peruna is the remedy they should have taken at first.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGSON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgson, Me.

2. SHELBYVILLE, KY.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—Mrs. MOLLIE SMITH, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIVITT, 1668 Constant St., Cleveland, O.

Proposes To Treat Germans As Pirates.

London, Feb. 23.—Lord Charles Beresford is going to put a question to Premier Asquith in the House of Commons tomorrow in which he will demand that Great Britain will treat Germans in undefended places as pirates and after trial by court martial hang them in public for the murder of women and children.

This applies to raids from the air as well as by sea. Lord Charles asserts that the government should adopt this plan in the future and no longer treat such raiders as honorable foes.

Girl Who Knew How To Sit Still Gets Fortune.

Miss Bertha Gretsch, of 42 Sidney place, Bensonhurst, inherited half of the estate of the late Jacob Hyman, about $25,000, simply because even as a little girl she knew how to sit still in a boat. This story of the odd reason for Miss Gretsch's good fortune has been verified by Isaac W. Jacobson executor of the estate.

Miss Gretsch when a child would sometimes go fishing in a boat with Mr. Hyman and she would sit so still that she did not frighten away the fish.

Mr. Hyman, a retired Broadway jeweler died at the Jewish Hospital on January 13. He was 73 years old. For many years he had made his home with Miss Gretsch's family, but she was the only one of eight children remembered in his will, the presumption being that the others were poor fishermen. The half of the estate not bequeathed to Miss Gretsch goes to sixteen first cousins. Miss Gretsch is now 23 years old.

A Happy Birthday Occasion.

The children of Mrs. Fannie Travis, of the Emmaus vicinity, met at her home Saturday, Feb. 13th, for the purpose of celebrating their mother's sixty-seventh birthday. It was also the birthday of one of her daughters. This was kept a secret from the mother until the arrival of her children, as they wanted to surprise her on that day.

She has eight living children and they were all present on this occasion. Besides most all of her grand-children were there.

The mother was almost horrified at the arrival of so many unexpected, but yet overjoyed to see her children come flocking home for all to be together for a short while. It was the first time the children had all gathered together on an occasion like this, since they had grown up and began to marry and leave the old parental roof. And as I could imagine in my own mind, that her memory ran back to by-gone days, when her children were little tots around the family hearthstone with her and father, who had long since gone to his reward.

At one o'clock a bountiful dinner was served; and Mr. Jenkins if you will allow me a little space in your valuable paper, we will mention a few of the eatables that we partook of:

beefsteak, fish, pickles, potato salad, chicken, boiled ham, sausage, cassup, sweet potatoes, pies, cakes and different kinds of bread, jellies, preserves, canned goods and quite a number of other things too numerous to mention. In the afternoon we engaged in social conversation, reminding us of our many ups and downs, duties and pleasures in life as we journey along, and we should be thankful to the giver of all good and perfect gifts, for allowing us to be spared to enjoy such blessings as we have the privilege of enjoying, while others have been called to quit the walks of earthly life.

In conclusion we will say that we listened to some good music from the organist, after which most of us returned to our homes, feeling that we had honored mother by their little act of kindness.

The remedy which immediately and easily penetrates the lining of the throat is the kind demanded. Dr. King's New Discovery soothes the irritation, loosens the phlegm. You feel better at once. BLACKFORD

(delayed from last week.)

Among other items of interest published in the last issue of the Record-Press, we notice quite a lengthy article from Tempe, Ariz., written by our former school mate, A F Woolfe. From the spirit and drift of the ideas expressed in said letter, we infer the writer is sincere and the contents original.

The Blackfords who visited Marion on Monday, Feb. 8th, were: C W DeHaven, Aaron Morgan, A B Vaughn, S W Tay-tay, Harlan Crowell, L B Phillips, John Mayes, James Allen Crowell, Drs. D T White and J L Reynolds.

Tradewater river is now on a stand and the water has begun to abate a little.

John Malachi Brantley, of near Rosebud, and Eli Brantley, of near Fishtrap, were here on last Saturday for some purpose, we don't know what.

Daniel Jasper Travis, of near Mutton, Ky., was here on last Saturday. Friend Travis has sold his farm and intends to move to Bowling Green, Ky.

Rev. O D Spence filled his regular appointment at the Presbyterian church Sunday and Sunday night, delivered two excellent sermons; resigned as pastor of said church, and on Monday at 8:30 a. m., he and his wife boarded the train for Nevada, Mo., and will in the near future, be adopted Missourians.

John Henry Dart and wife are the proud parents of a brand new daughter which arrived at their home on Feb. 10th, 1915. The little occupant has been christened Frances Lucile, as per record rendered by J L Reynolds, M. D.

Elmer Maxwell Gahagen, of Crittenden Co., was circulating among the Blackfords one day last week.

Misses Ina and Ethel Stevens are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E F Stevens, of this place. Miss Ina is a trained nurse and hails from Nashville, Tenn., while Miss Ethel is a stenographer and resides at Bloomfield, Mo. The young ladies are native Crittenden County girls and formerly lived at Shady Grove.

Predestination may be possible so far as we know, and fortune-telling a rare gift to mankind; yet we infer, from past decisions and "match-making," that it is beyond human comprehension to know how a jury may decide a case at law or who-i. e. what kind of an animal that chews tobacco, smokes cigarettes wears trousers and walks on the "forked-end"—a woman will marry.

Fred K. McDonald, the urbane conductor on the "Dixon Flyer," rejects the theory that a man can fall into a well and get himself out by transformation. Or he, at least, does not believe in it strongly enough to try the experiment.

As our neighbor correspondents seem to be somewhat delinquent in answering the question in our last "epistle," we are indulgent enough to extend the time for the question already asked and propound this one for their consideration:

"What is it that has a face but no head, hands but no feet; yet travels everywhere and usually running.—PICAYUNE.

Forever Closed.

Paris, Feb. 16.—The meeting of the Finance Ministers of the Triple Entente was not merely to organize for an economic victory, declared P. Bark, the Russian Minister of Finance, in an interview with the Matin. We must not be obliged some day after the war is ended, he continued, to pay a sort of indemnity to the Germans by leaving open to them a means of recouping and enriching themselves at our expense in our own markets.

"Germany, having demolished the factories in Belgium, Poland and Northern France, perhaps thinks to force us to buy from her, goods we cannot make ourselves. Let her be quite sure our markets are closed to her forever."

Over 600 farmers are now members of the association. Every member will have a vote in the management of the association for every share he or she secures. Any portion of loans secured can be paid off and cancelled in any year by giving the association 60 days notice. While rural credit banks have been in operation in Europe for 147 years, no plan was ever in operation or perfected to so completely dignify and benefit the farmer as the one offered by the KENTUCKY RURAL CREDIT ASSOCIATION.

It establishes a life long credit for the farmer, places him on the same footing as any stock holder in any strong bank anywhere. If a farmer wishes to sell his farm, he can transfer his membership to the purchaser, who can continue the loan for full term if he so desires. As a member of the Kentucky Rural Credit Association the farmer will be accorded advantages and benefits not enjoyed under other conditions, as only a limited number of shares to membership will be issued in each County.

To enable those who may be interested
will be at HOTEL CRITTENDEN, Marion, Ky., until Wed. MARCH 3rd, to give full and detailed information cheerfully.

Elsewhere in this issue is the advertisement and published list of officers and directors of the "Farmers Rural Credit association" which is organized under the laws of the State of Kentucky. The prospectus contains the names of many of the best known men in Kentucky, among them the governor, and many banks and farmers known all over Kentucky and beyond the borders of the State. It would seem a god-send to the small or poor farmer in this State, who can, by this association's plans, borrow money on twenty years' time and pay the debt as he earns it. Mr. Ward Douglas the authorized agent, will be glad to tell those interested all they wish to know. His headquarters while here will be at the new Crittenden Hotel.

The editor knows nothing of this organization but does know that the men who lend their names to it as officers and directors, are some of the best in the Commonwealth.

$400 Saved In One Month In Coal Used At Light Plant.

January 1915 the coal bill at the electric light plant was $400 less than it was the corresponding month of 1914. The saving is due to the new steam condenser attached to the turbine engine. The condenser recently installed, conserves steam energy and has proven itself to be a great saving.

The old turbine engine at the plant has been repaired at a cost of $500, and is now as good as new, it is said. Two turbines are now on the floor and should the one in operation break down, the entire load could be switched to the other engine without the city suffering any inconvenience as to light.—Gleaner.

Albert Hughes Dead.

Albert Hughes, a respected colored man, died Wednesday morning at one o'clock at his home just south of the city limits. He had suffered for several years with Hodgkin's disease, which causes the glands of the throat, to swell. For months his neck has been larger than his head and he suffered greatly.

There is no known cure for the disease which made his case more pitiful.

Albert was industrious and owned his home. He left no children. His wife was Lena Leavell and she has given every care and attention to him during his long illness.

His remains will be buried today at the colored folks' cemetery.

U. S. Navy Wants 30 Millions For Submarines

Washington, Feb. 24.—Senate Republicans intend to put a larger submarine building program in the pending naval bill that has been provided by the House. Senator Smoot today introduced an amendment for fifty submarines of a seagoing type, and 25 smaller ones. For the first year it would appropriate $30,000,000.

Real Philanthropy.

Who is the Philanthropist of today? Not the multi-millionaire, endowing libraries and Universities. Not the silver tongued orator, listening senators to command. Not the inventive genius that sails the heavens above or dives the deep blue sea below. None of these—but for up-to-date practical philanthropy that is worth while, commend me to the man with the "Split Log Drag" on the public roads, for real results right now he beats them all, its the "Stitch in Time" that counts, its surpassing beauty is that it costs nothing, it is public benefit without taxation. The Statesman's oratory, the millionaires' beneficence and the inventors' genius lose their sweetness, we pay our taxes. Not so with our hero. You come to town, you bless him; you go to church, you bless him; you sell your crop, you bless him. The mail carrier blesses him; the auto-man blesses him; the merchant blesses him; the preacher blesses him; the editor blesses him; the doctor blesses him; the world blesses him. You don't find such a man anywhere else in all the government. He is not a candidate, he is not a politician, he is not a grafter. Take off your hat to him.
